A NEW EQUATION

The potential of custom printed shipping boxes rests with small businesses or projects just as it does with larger enterprises or endeavors. Now, the quantity you can order isn't confined to thousands; you can request as few or as many as necessary.

Sustainability

Awareness of the environmental impact of production and consumption drives us. Our corrugated material contains 50% more recycled content and is fully recyclable. We source materials from SFI-certified companies, adhering to the world's largest single forest standard, the Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI).

Samples

Might it be beneficial to have the ability to inspect and feel our boxes prior to placing bulk orders of hundreds or thousands? We can arrange a sample pack showcasing representative boxes, allowing you to assess the quality. Furthermore, you could take an additional step by ordering just one to evaluate its fit, design, and color. There's a unique value in visual experience.

Special Requests

Are you not seeing everything you want? We're here to help.

- > Want a mask that extends to the flap or to the interior of your box?
- > Want to see a printed swatch of a particular color before ordering?
- > Do you have specific mailing or shipping instructions?

Naturally, we maintain affordable pricing through standardized production elements. However, in instances of unique situations, we aim to work with you to discover suitable resolutions.

Proudly manufactured in the United States

SPECIFICATIONS

Material

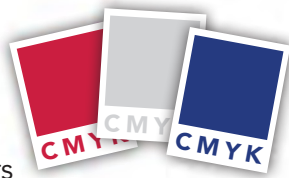

Shipping boxes are made from 200# corrugated cardboard material. Structures are offered in B and E flute, which is sturdy enough for shipping safely, yet light enough to not add unnecessary bulk or an unattractive “ribbed” effect on the printing.

Boxes are uncoated white stock on the outside. Display mailers have white on the inside as well. Kraft paper or coated papers are not offered.

Ink

Our boxes are digitally printed in CMYK with a UV cure. We cannot match a PMS color. While our printers are calibrated to SWOP standards (the industry standard), no two digital printers are the same, so if color is important to you, as we suspect it is, we recommend asking a sales rep about receiving a Color Swatch Sample.

Material

Our standard lead time is approximately ten days, Shipping is dependent on the UPS shipping option selected. Please allow an additional three to five days if you request a color swatch test.

We do not currently offer rush services, however, we will do our best to accommodate your deadline. Please inquire with your sales person to see if we are able to meet your need.

Structure Types

We offer the following four structure styles in the 27 most common sizes:

- > Shipper is also referred to as slotted carton.
- > Mailer includes three closure styles that are also referred to as roll-tuck mailer, end-tuck mailer or ear lock mailer.
- > Top-Open Box includes square mailers and gift mailers with top-tuck closure style.
- > Carry Handled Box is also referred to as a gabled box.

DISPLAY MAILERS

When you are looking for maximum brand impact, mailers offer ease of assembly, maximum branding space on the exterior and an elegant “unveiling” process that adds to the overall customer experience. The standard mask includes printing on all six sides, plus flap, for these tuck and roll style mailers. Display style mailers offer an inside print option on the white interior for an additional fee.
